As aptly pointed out by Joseph Addison, the molding force of the soul lies in education. Strengthening our character, it shapes us to form the very essence of our being.

Education is not merely the learning of facts, which sometimes are forgotten as rapidly as they are learned. Far more, it is the development and enrichment of our personalities.

Without education, our capacity can well be compared to a block of marble—very superficial, with little below the smooth exterior. It is only through careful molding and shaping that the ultimate result is attained.

The development of our intellect, our physical well-being, and our relationships with others—this is the major goal of our high school years.

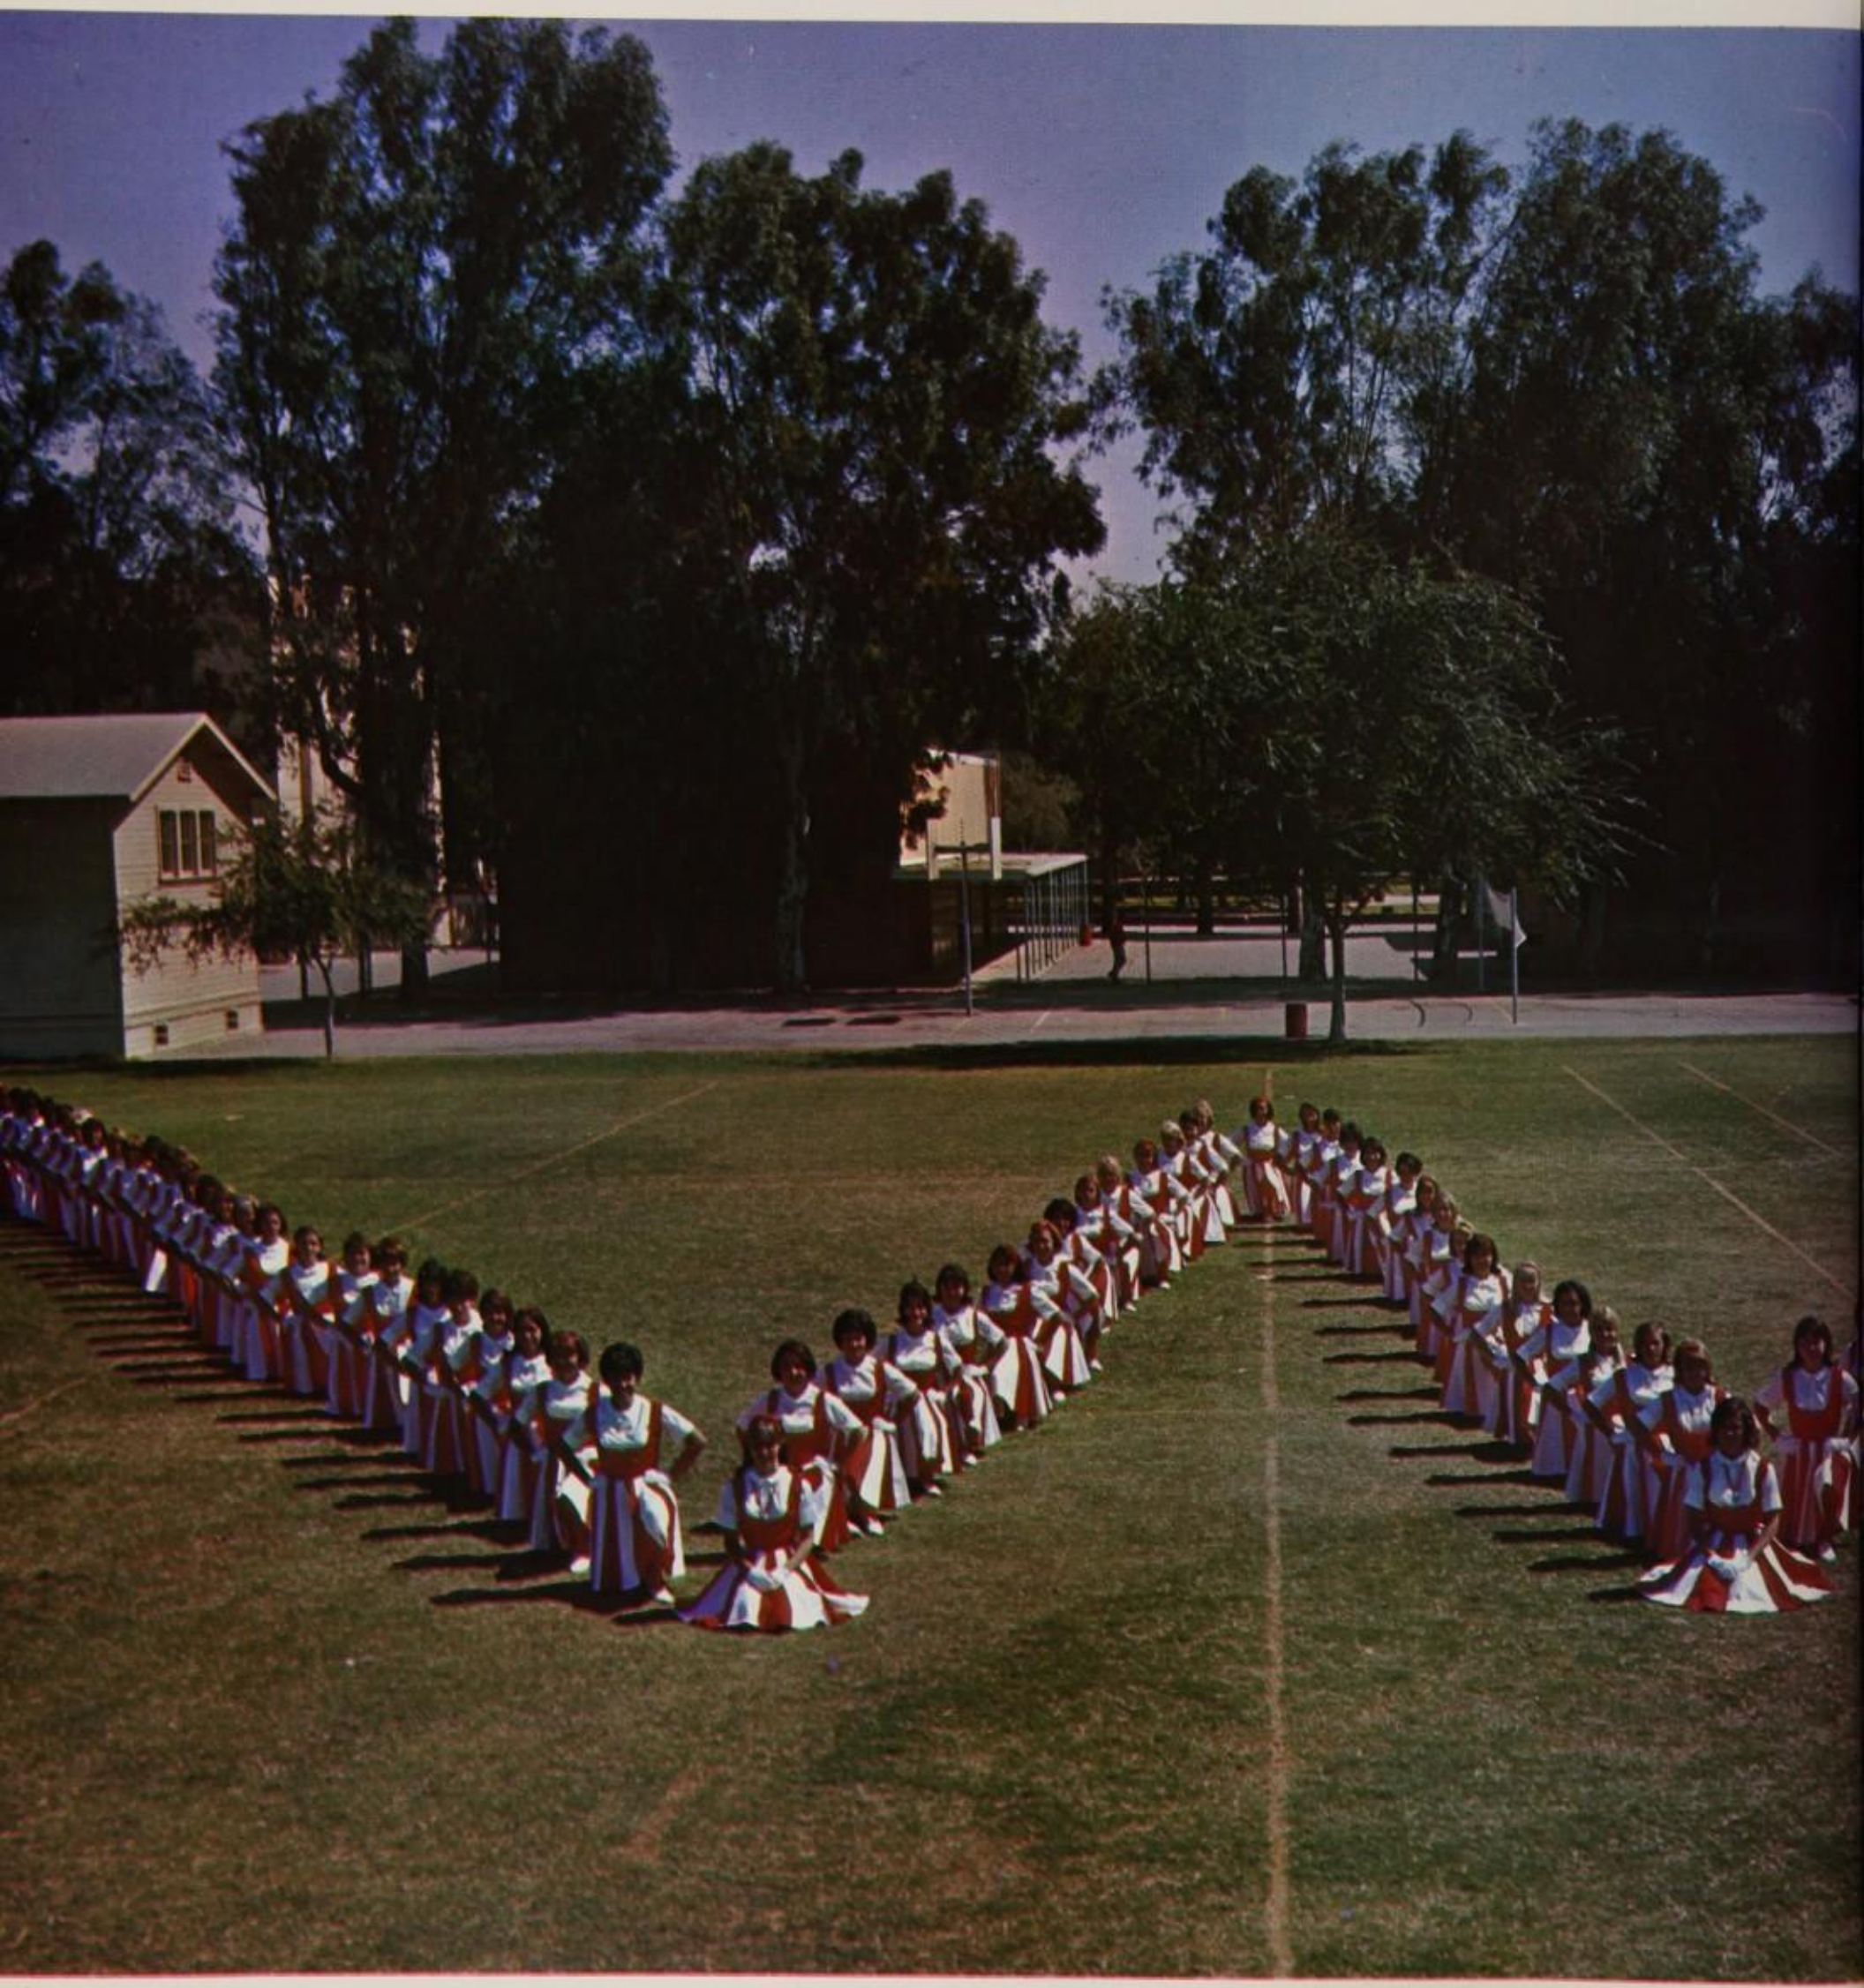
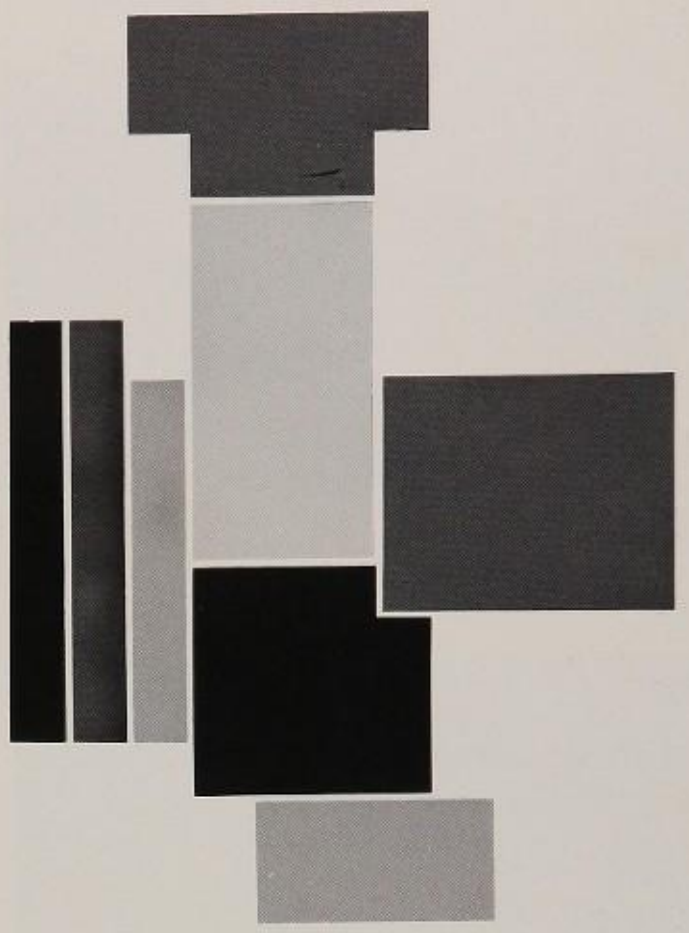
"Nothing is so contagious



as enthusiasm''—

Edward George Bulwer-Lytton



An essential phase of our education is the development of enthusiasm, for one's attitude is very important in making school a meaningful experience. The interests which we develop in high school motivate us to cultivate our interests in future endeavors.

Enthusiasm may be defined as eager interest and zeal, and our high school years afford us an excellent chance to develop this attribute. Participation in school activities brings about the brand of enthusiasm known as "school spirit"—a vital part of education itself. This spirit enhances the enjoyment of everyday activities and helps us to develop a feeling of association and pride. Not only in high school, but for the rest of our lives, curiosity and interest are the keys to satisfaction in our experiences.

A significant quality of enthusiasm is the fact that by reflecting the spirit of others we may kindle zeal within ourselves, and this zeal then builds upon itself with each profitable experience.

Enthusiasm is a force from within, pushing us toward greater goals and achievement. A great deal of this inspiration and spirit is needed to attain a worthwhile position in life. High school provides us with many opportunities to channel our enthusiasm toward making our lives more meaningful and satisfying.

"Education is the apprenticeship of life''—

Robert Willmott

Primitive man had but simple needs, his life being comprised of little more than birth, life, and death. Food and shelter were his basic requirements and the basis of his existence, while instinct was his only guide. But as man became more complex, his necessities followed suit. Instinct alone was no longer sufficient; education and learning took their places as the first steps toward enlightenment. The basic tool of learning, the art of thinking, had to be acquired.

Once armed with thought, man began his search for learning, as it is only through knowledge that we may gain insight into some of the basic queries of life. Basically, these questions deal with our relationships and responsibilities to ourselves and society. Through experience and education we attempt to strive for the ultimate solutions to these problems.

It is during our school years that the foundation of the learning process is laid. Refinement and cultivation of our abilities are derived from our learning. Education is but the first step, the apprenticeship, toward attaining the goal of maturation. We cannot demand, nor expect it to be the final step, but rather a beginning, an awakening, a path to life.

"A sound mind

A sound mind working in close connection with a sound body is a concept dating back to the ancient Greeks. From the beginning of time, man has recognized the necessity of the association between the two, and has tried to develop this union to its highest degree.

A cultivated body is of little worth without an equally cultivated mind. The intellect, signaling our body to action, keeps it from regressing to the barbaric dependence on brute force and strength. However, an educated mind is conversely of small value without a sound body capable of carrying out the mind's assignments.

Cultivating the body, along with educating the mind, is one of the goals of high school. Through participation in various extracurricular activities, physical education classes, and athletic organizations, we have the opportunity of developing our bodies to meet the demands of our minds.

The incorporation of the two, mind and body, working in coordinated action, is important to the retention of our civilized culture. Therefore, it is our social obligation to develop our physical beings as well as our minds. Carefully, we must balance the two in order to emerge prepared to meet the challenges and demands of the future.

It is always impressive and a real source of pride to review another school year in the Crimson and Gray.

Van Nuys High is dedicated to providing as varied a program of activities as possible in order to provide for the many interests of its students. The annual is a report on the success of this objective.

My compliments to those students whose efforts and talents have contributed to the success of our activities. My thanks to the teachers for their generosity and their interest, expressed by the support and leadership they have given to this part of our educational program. My appreciation to the Crimson and Gray staff for gathering the material for this annual and presenting it so effectively.

"He alone has lost the art to live who cannot win new friends."—

Silas Weir Mitchell

A vital part of our school life is the creating and maintaining of friendships. The majority of the people with whom we associate in high school will gradually fade out of our lives as we all pursue our own chosen fields. Still other friendships represent little more than a fleeting and easily forgotten acquaintance. On the other hand, in the course of our high school years many precious and lasting friendships are formed.

Beneath the superficial value of friendship there also lies the essential element of our existence—the understanding of our fellow man. Through friendship, we realize that understanding is the key to enlightenment. Through companionship, new truths about human nature are discovered, and we come to recognize the complex facets of our own personalities. This awareness guides us toward the development of finer character traits.

Friendship also forms the foundation of our "give and take" society, confirming the adage that we only get out of something what we put into it. Though the friends we make now may not remain with us throughout our lives, this principle remains the same. Thus, each friendship we form brings us one step closer to solution of the universal problem: living harmoniously with our fellow man.

Faculty

The faculty of Van Nuys High School provides the motivation and conditions that guide students on the pathway to success. Each teacher's knowledge, experience and patience lead us through three of the most important years of our lives by preparing us for participation in society after our school years are through. Without the teacher's understanding and devotion to us, the future leaders of America, it would be difficult to imagine how we would be able to meet life's challenges.

REPRESENTATIVE COUNCIL W '66

REPRESENTATIVE COUNCIL

The purpose of Representative Council is to create a link between the student body and the Board of Control. The student body's part in school government does not end when elections are over. With the help of their council representatives, the students keep up to date on what is happening on the Board of Control, and are able to submit ideas and suggestions of their own. A council representative is elected by each second period class, and is responsible for attending all council meetings and reporting back to his class. With his interest and effort, he helps to give his fellow students a clearer picture of how the school government is run.

EPHEBIAN SOCIETY

Membership in the Ephebian Society is indeed a recognition of which any graduating senior can be proud. Seniors who have demonstrated high scholastic standards and outstanding leadership ability throughout high school are eligible to apply for membership in this society. They are selected each semester by the members of their graduating class and the faculty. Only one Ephebian is chosen for every forty members of the class. The students chosen for this honor become life members of this organization, working toward improving our community and nation. After graduation, the Ephebian has a unique opportunity to serve through community projects and enjoys rewarding experiences in helping others.

Activity Day

One of the highlights of the year for the Charmonés was their Activity Day held at the Van Nuys-Sherman Oaks Playground Wednesday, October 20. The first activity was the traditional lunch served by the PTA mothers. After lunch the class enjoyed activities and amusements such as egg-tossing, three-legged races, tugs-of-war, and pie-eating. The Charmonés will always remember their Activity Day as one filled with enjoyment and fun.

Si Bonnais Enjoy Activity Day

Nancy Kaufman and Chris Clark stumble their way through three-legged race.

The Shiverin' Bones entertain at the Si Bonnais' Activity Day.

Girls' sack race gets the festivities off to a fast start.

The egg-throwing contest adds excitement to Activity Day.

Hungry boys dive into cream pies served by the girls.

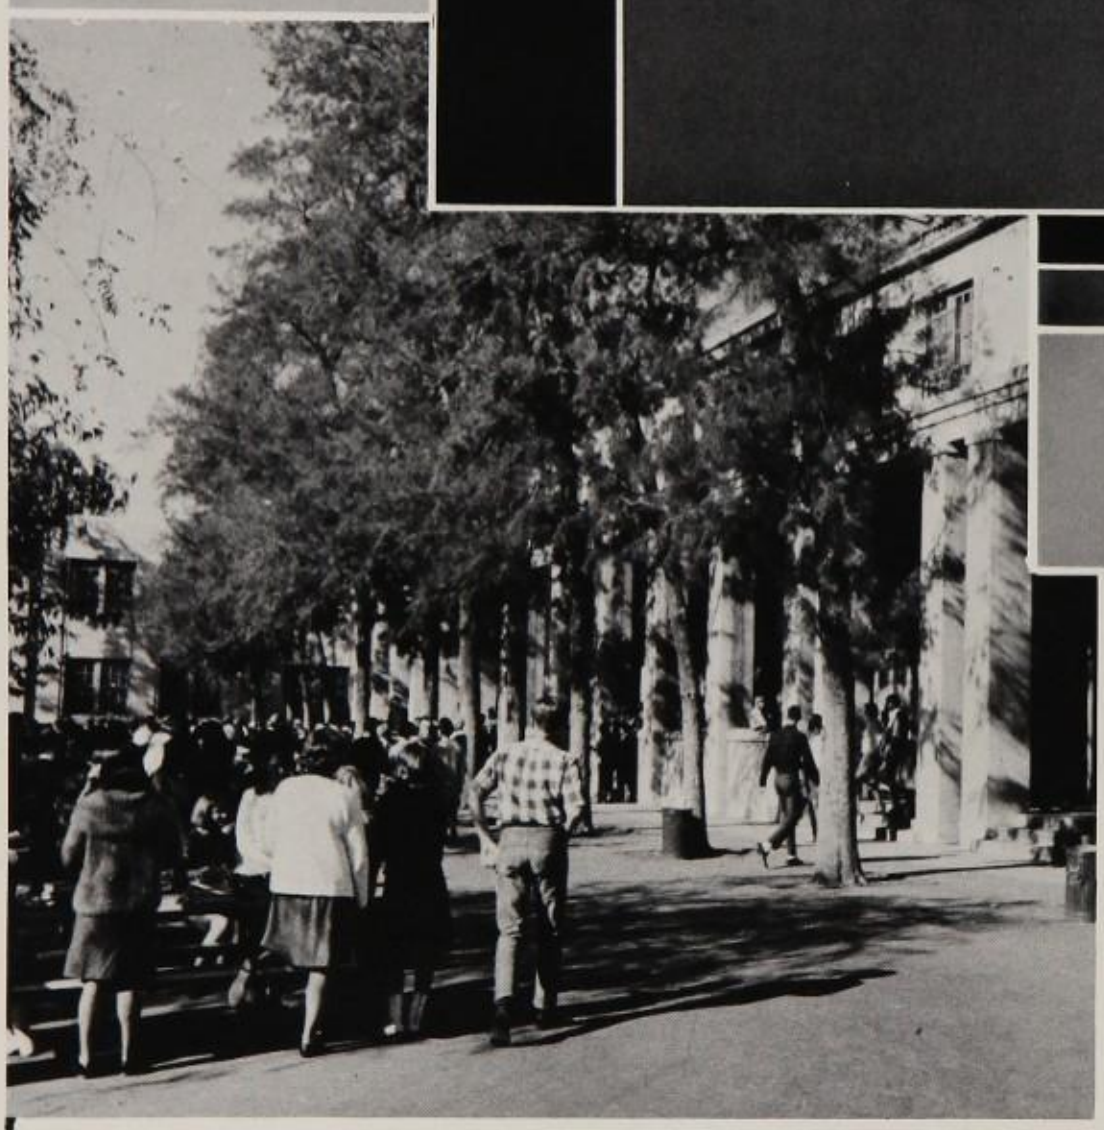
Underclassmen



Although the underclassmen don't have special class activities and privileges as do the seniors, they participate in countless clubs, service organizations, musical groups, and individual and group sports. They also help to display our school spirit and enthusiasm at games, dances, and sports nights, thus playing an important role in maintaining the traditionally high standards of Van Nuys.

Activities

Extracurricular clubs, service groups, and honor organizations at Van Nuys High give all students a chance to participate in outside activities which interest them. A wide variety of activities is offered — clubs dealing with many sports, hobbies, and careers; girls' and boys' service and scholarship organizations; and musical, theatrical, and literary groups — all of which help to widen the scope of educational opportunity.

SCHOOL PLAY

Three performances of the semi-annual school play are given each semester: two matinees and one evening performance. The Play Production Class puts some ten weeks of hard work into these plays, under the watchful eye of Mr. Ron Ladwig, the director. Presented last semester, for the first time, was a contemporary play, "Nobody Loves an Albatross," about a man who was crushed by a fantasy world of his own creation; and this semester, "Arsenic and Old Lace," the rollicking comedy about two old maiden aunts who murder lonely old gentlemen as one of their charities, was offered to the student body.

'Finian's Rainbow" leads were B. Thomas, K. Zirin, C. Olsen, L. Taylor, D. Sindell, C. Beal, and R. Nelson.

THEATRE ARTS WORKSHOP

"Finian's Rainbow," the long-running Broadway musical comedy hit, was this year's Theatre Arts Workshop production. The show combined two fantastic tales: one concerning the hope of an immigrant Irishman that the crock of gold he has stolen from the Leprechauns will multiply in the soil adjacent to Fort Knox, and a second telling of the fight of an engaging group of sharecroppers to preserve their land against the encroachments of a demagogue from the State of "Missitucky." Included in the familiar score of the show are "Devil Moon," "How Are Things in Glocamora?" and "Necessity."

Approximately 60 students from Theatre Arts classes participated in the production.

The Workshop is divided into four sections, each with a faculty sponsor. Students may participate in any one of the following areas: drama, dance, vocalization, or scenery and stage design. Sponsors of these departments are Mr. Ronald Ladwig, Miss Marguerite Senchak, Mr. George Greb, and Mrs. Yvonne Meo, respectively. Mr. Greb is also production coordinator.

Students interested in any aspect of the theatre find challenging work and rewarding satisfaction in belonging to the Theatre Arts Workshop.

MAY DAY PRINCESSES

Louise Pensanti, Ellen Stock, Judi Stevenson, Kathie Cool, Sherry Tamkin, Janice Book, Jessie Armstrong, Laura Waters, Nancy Kaufman, Peggy Wintersteen.

MAY DAY

One of the most exciting traditions to which the girls' student body looks forward each year is the May Day celebration. Several weeks before the festivities, senior girls are nominated for May princesses in P.E. and health classes. From over 100 nominees this year, 21 princesses were elected, and notified by Robin Klain, May Day Chairman.

This year's annual May Day Assembly developed the old English theme of "Camelot." The princesses were presented, and, after a tense wait, Girls' President Ellen Stock crowned Kathie Cool as May Queen.

USHERS

Under the sponsorship of Mr. Wendell Kirk, the ushers play an important part in assemblies and other group functions in which the entire student body participates. The boys are responsible for seating students in the auditorium, and for aiding members of the faculty in maintaining their quiet and orderly conduct. The services performed by the ushers help to make assemblies more enjoyable for us all.

STAGE CREW

Boys responsible for lighting, sound, and other behind-the-scenes activities at assemblies and plays belong to Mr. Luckstead's Stage Crew class. Under the direction of Mr. Luckstead and Ray Gonzales, the stage manager, the boys performed valuable services in stage mechanics. Their work added to the success of assemblies and theatrical productions such as the Mother-Daughter Dessert, and the Theater Arts Workshop presentation of "Finian's Rainbow."

STAGE DESIGN

This year the Stage Design class, sponsored by Mrs. Yvonne Meo, has had many opportunities to use their creative talents in designing the sets for the many theatrical productions and activities at Van Nuys.

The Senior Play, the Mother-Daughter Dessert, the Girl's Activity Board Awards Luncheon, the May Day Assembly, and the Theater Arts Workshop Production of "Finian's Rainbow" are only a few of the activities in which Stage Design played a part.

Band entertains audience at Winter Concert.

BAND

Under the direction of Mr. Stanley Caplan, Van Nuys High School had one of the finest bands in the city this year. Serving as drum majors were Jerry Kracow and Leslie Rosenthal. In the fall the band played for football and basketball games, as well as for pep rallies. They were among six bands to participate in the U.S.C. Field Day at the Los Angeles Coliseum on November 27. The concert band played for the Winter Concert and numerous other assemblies.

The spring semester saw an excellent dance band which gave musicians interested in contemporary music an opportunity to perform.

ORCHESTRA

Highlighting this year's activities of the orchestra was a field trip to the U.C.L.A. Chamber Music Festival. Under the direction of Mr. Stanley Caplan, the group became larger in size during the spring semester due to increased demands for performances. They participated in the Spring "Pops" Concert, and performed at graduation, the Installation Assembly, and the Theatre Arts Workshop presentation of "Finian's Rainbow."

Among the talented orchestra members, Karen Davidson, Cheryl Ham, and Sue Kaleta were the proud recipients of musicianship awards.

Orchestra members work diligently in section rehearsal.

GIRLS' GLEE CLUB

Girls who enjoy singing and have abundant talent in this field find their niche in the Girls' Glee Club, sponsored by Mr. George Greb, music teacher. Glee Club gives interested girls a chance to develop and improve their voices, and to prepare themselves for possible future membership in A Cappella Choir or Vannaires.

The Girls' Glee Club participated in the Winter and Spring Concerts, as well as in several other school activities throughout the year.

VANNAIRES

Vannaires, an outstanding vocal group at Van Nuys High, is comprised of those students who have demonstrated their specialized singing ability and who wish to participate in this advanced vocal ensemble.

Led by Mr. George Greb, the Vannaires perform at committee events and community programs, in addition to school activities.

Highlighting their activities was a performance for the Retired Teachers' Association. The group also sang at the annual Winter and Spring Concerts, and various assemblies.

WINTER CONCERT

Van Nuys High's excellent musical groups presented another entertaining Winter Concert this year. Among those which participated were the Vannaires, A Cappella Choir, Girls' Glee Club, Band, and Orchestra. They performed a variety of different types of music including folk numbers and sacred selections. Solo parts were sung by Mary Savidge, Dawn Krantz, and Reese Davis. Myrna Drell provided accompaniment, and also performed a piano solo. The groups were rehearsed and directed by music teachers, Mr. George Greb and Mr. Stan Caplan.

A CAPPELLA CHOIR

One of the largest vocal groups at Van Nuys High School is the A Cappella Choir, under the direction of Mr. George Greb. The choir includes both girls and boys who show a genuine interest in voice study and group vocal performance.

Led by semester presidents Mary Savidge and Holli Bridenstine, the choir participated in numerous events this year. Just a few of these events were a Pops Concert in March, a performance at Van Nuys Junior High School, and participation in the S.C.V.A. Music Festival.

CHATELAINES

Tenth and eleventh grade girls who possess leadership qualities and a willingness to serve the school may apply for Chatelaines, an honor society.

Under winter semester president, Lee Lightfoot, and spring semester president, Adrienne Krikorian, the girls worked in concession stands at the football games, aided teachers, and supported many social functions throughout the school. During the winter semester, the girls enjoyed a trip to Table Mountain with their sponsor, Miss Ruth Shaw.

SQUIRES

Mr. Barry Lamare is the sponsor of the Squires, a junior honorary service organization for tenth and eleventh grade boys.

During the year the group sold programs at football games and ushered at basketball games. Throughout the year they participated in numerous service projects for the benefit of the school, and their semi-annual banquets were both highly successful.

The fall semester president was Stewart Foreman, and the spring meetings were led by Bruce Friedman.

RESERVE OFFICERS TRAINING CORPS

Invaluable training is offered to each individual cadet in the Van Nuys High R.O.T.C. Participation in the unit develops self-discipline and a new understanding of patriotism. Many members choose to further school service by joining one of the various service groups of the battalion, such as the flag detail or the track guard. The many honors and awards received by the R.O.T.C. cadets enhance the prestige of our school.

This marks the forty-second year in the history of the Van Nuys High R.O.T.C. Van Nuys' battalion commander, Mike Payne, won the all-city colonel competition, as well as other city-wide awards of excellence.

The most important event each year is the annual inspection by important officers of the United States Army. The Van Nuys High battalion was selected as an honor unit. This distinction is contested by many schools; only a truly outstanding group is recognized in this manner.

The R.O.T.C. plans to continue bringing pride and recognition to Van Nuys High in the years to come.

FUTURE FARMERS OF AMERICA

Future Farmers of America is a national organization devoted to the discussion of and actual experience in various agricultural programs. Van Nuys High's F.F.A., sponsored by Mr. Dell Rollins, is composed of two divisions: animal husbandry and horticulture. Each of these divisions takes a field trip on alternate weeks.

Under the leadership of semester presidents Steve Downing and Ken Duncan, the group met with other F.F.A. chapters and discussed such subjects as farming problems and landscaping. As a special holiday activity, they collected canned goods to help make a needy family's Christmas merrier.

Howard Gold presided over this year's Key Club meetings. The Key Club is a boys' service organization sponsored by the Van Nuys Kiwanis Club. Key Club members serve the community and promote good citizenship. For the last two years the club has been helping to support a young Pima Indian boy, Reynold Dean Cross, who is a student at Riverside Institute. For this purpose, the club's main money-raising event this year was a sports car rally.

CAMPUS CONTROL

A small group of responsible students constitute the Campus Control, under the supervision of Mr. Art Kemple. These students show a genuine interest in serving their school by giving up brunch or lunch with their friends to be at their stations, keeping track of the comings and goings of the students. They make sure no one leaves the campus without permission, and also keep non-students from coming on campus without a valid reason.

Semester club presidents were John Fisher and Mike Blumenthal.

ART CLUB

Have you ever wondered who is responsible for the unique signs and posters around campus? These are the products of the Art Club, which aids the Commissioner of Publicity in informing students of forthcoming events.

Under the sponsorship of art teacher Miss Barbara Login, the club provides an opportunity for students interested in art to get training and experience. It is designed to encourage students to perfect their creative talents.

GENERAL SCIENCE CLUB

During the past year, the Science Club participated in an expanded program. In addition to its regular films and guest speakers, the club took a number of field trips, and instituted several programs devoted to the debate of controversial scientific topics. The group placed a greater emphasis on life science than in past semesters.

The purpose of the club is to encourage interest in science by providing a varied program. This year's activities were highlighted by a trip to San Gorgonio. The club also participated, for the first time, in the L.A. County Museum Film Series.

MATH CLUB

Solving math puzzles and equations are among the activities of the Math Club, sponsored by Mr. Wayne Downing, math department member. This year's activities were highlighted by participation at the annual Math Field Day at Occidental College.

During the meetings, faculty members of the math department delivered lectures on all aspects of mathematics. Presiding at the club's meetings this year was its capable president, Andy Houtzik.

MEDICAL CAREERS CLUB

Aiding students interested in a career in medicine, the Medical Careers Club encourages respect for the profession. Under the supervision of the school nurse, Mrs. Christine Pierce, the members have a unique chance to delve into the vast complexities of medical research. They learn about vocational opportunities through publications, films, and lectures by guest speakers.

Peggy Hanson and Alice Hebb served as fall and spring semester presidents.

Good music is the mutual interest of members of the Philharmonic Club, sponsored by Mr. Bob Rosenbaum. Entertainment was provided at many of the meetings by professional groups or fine groups of amateur musicians. Members also enjoyed field trips to operas, concerts, and various other musical events. Presiding at the meetings were Rachel Grant, president; Barbara Morris, vice-president; and Susan Largent, secretary-treasurer.

NATIONAL FORENSIC LEAGUE AND ORATORS

Holding the honor of being chosen "Club of the Year," the National Forensic League and Orators enjoyed a successful term.

The N.F.L. is a national club held in high esteem by colleges and universities throughout the country. It encourages competition in speech activities and tries to develop speaking self-confidence in its members.

The fall president was Rena Fudacz, and the spring meetings were led by Mark Branner. Mr. Bob Rosenbaum sponsored the group.

POLITICAL FORUM

A club making its first appearance on campus this year is the Political Forum. Under the leadership of club president, Dean Sluyter, and sponsor, Mr. Avik Gilboa, the club strives to acquaint its members with important world issues, and to present all sides of the issues for careful thought and discussion.

Many debates are staged in which the pros and cons of a chosen topic are presented and discussed among the members.

YOUTH SERVICES COMMITTEE

The group of students responsible for planning all of this year's dances and sports nights was the Youth Services Committee. With the help of its sponsor, Mr. Paul Hymanson, the group did a very fine job of making these social activities enjoyable for the students. The committee took care of decorations, refreshments, and live entertainment. Without all of the hard work of the Youth Services Committee, our dances and sports nights would not have been nearly as successful as they were.

SKI CLUB

Under the sponsorship of Mr. Robert Coutts, the Ski Club experienced one of its most active years. The ski season started with a four-day trip to Mammoth Mountain during Christmas vacation. Other trips were taken to Table Mountain and June Mountain, and free skiing lessons were made available to beginners.

Melting snows don't stop the club members. When spring comes, they simply switch to water skiing on various lakes in Southern California.

This year's officers were Chris Moore, Carolyn Jones, and Michel Meryl.

NATURAL HISTORY CLUB

Lovers of the great outdoors find fellow students who share their interests in the Natural History Club. Open to both boys and girls, this organization is devoted to camping and hiking.

Under the supervision of its sponsor, Mr. Art Kemple, the group makes numerous trips to various camping sites in Southern California. Some of these excursions took the club members to places such as Kern River, Sespe Creek, Lake Pirie, and Palm Springs and its surrounding area.

FOLK SONG CLUB

The purpose of the Folk Song Club is to acquaint students with the folk songs of our land, and those of other lands as well.

This year, under the leadership of semester presidents, Steve Ravitz and Sandy Kays, members had demonstrations of blues, bluegrass, banjo, Negro spiritual, traditional, and contemporary music.

Club meetings are both informative and enjoyable, as each member brings his own instrument, and has something to contribute.

GRAPHIC ARTS CLUB
FIRST ROW—Mr. Sparks, C. Cornell, H. Shpegel, M. Levine. SECOND ROW—R. Roll, S. Stefanic, R. Benjamin, M. Holiday.

GRAPHIC ARTS CLUB

This year the Graphic Arts Club was under the leadership of club president, Howard Shpegal. Helping to promote interest in printing and related arts, the club has performed many useful functions. Some of their activities included printing memo pads for all teachers and school staff members, working on the publication of a booklet describing Van Nuys High School clubs, and arranging various hall showcase displays, such as one done for International Printing Week. Sponsoring the club this year was Mr. Arthur Sparks.

AMATEUR RADIO CLUB

Boys who are interested in operating short wave radio sets learn more about their hobby and meet other boys with a similar interest by belonging to the Amateur Radio Club.

Under the direction of their sponsor, Mr. Maurice Kopp, the club members gain valuable knowledge about radio, and get the practical experience of sending and receiving actual messages. This experience is possible because the club maintains its own radio station in the electronics shop. Many boys have received their operator's licences through the Amateur Radio Club.

PHILATELY CLUB

Under the supervision of Mr. Barry Lamare, sponsor, and Gary Toub, club president, the Philately Club has taken part in numerous activities dealing with stamp collections this year. The purpose of the club is to increase one's familiarity with stamps through field trips, reports, and lectures.

Some of the club's activities included a school stamp display, guest speakers, field trips to stamp exhibitions, movies and slides, and the exchanging of stamps among members.

WINGED PEN & WAY OF THE WOLVES

Jessie Armstrong and Chris Conkling, serving respectively as winter and spring Commissioners of Publications, were responsible for the Winged Pen.

This publication is issued every year, containing the most outstanding literary works submitted by students of all grade levels at Van Nuys High. Most of the contributions come from members of the Pegasus Club and the creative writing classes.

With the aid and direction of Mr. Merrill Foster, English Department Chairman, Jessie and Chris also revised the B-10 handbook, Way of the Wolves.

PEGASUS CLUB

Under the sponsorship of Mrs. Jean Rawson, the Pegasus Club meets every Monday at lunch. The purpose of the club is to foster the interest of its members in creative writing. Individual club members plan meeting programs which feature their own creative writing or that of modern professional writers. Also, the club members assist in selecting and preparing material for the Winged Pen, Van Nuys High's student literary magazine.

Serving as fall semester president was Jan Isaacs; the spring meetings were presided over by Sandi Ballif.

ANNUAL STAFF

This year's Crimson and Gray staff was a team of diligent workers who devoted their time and effort to the production of a well-organized and good-looking yearbook.

The annual editor for the fall semester wqs Fred Dunn. His job was taken over in the spring semester by a former staff member, Sue Kraus. Both Fred and Sue, along with the other staff members and sponsor, Mr. George Bayha, spent many hours during class and on weekends as well to prepare this 168 page book for publication. Much of the original copy material used was submitted by Phillis Eidem, Lydia Plotkin, Bonnie Fine, Sherry Basch, Pam Bridgers, Claudia Preiss, and Dean Sluyter.

Sports

School spirit and enthusiasm thrive on sports, and we can be proud of the fine effort put forth by the athletic teams at Van Nuys. Although attendance at sports events was not as high this year as it could have been, those students who did attend shared a feeling of pride and accomplishment in supporting their teams and cheering for their favorite athletes.

A boy benefits from athletics in many ways: he promotes school spirit, receives recognition, gains physical stamina, and learns to work in harmony with others.

VARSITY FOOTBALL

Once again this year's Varsity Football team was in the race for the league title right up to the wire. In fact, it was the tie which the Van Nuys Wolves handed Poly which kept the Parrots from the championship. Thanks to the able coaching of Leonard Orteg, line coach, and Winston Tucker, backfield coach, the Wolves fielded a strong eleven, which displayed great determination, spirit, and sportsmanship, a combination which made them a definite league threat.

This year's team was quarterbacked by Bill Morgan. In the style of past Van Nuys quarterbacks, Morgan, a big man, used the run-pass option to great advantage. Behind Morgan in the backfield this season were Ted Henry, Reese Davis, Jerry Staines, and Bob Doran. Chris Clark turned in another fine season for the wolves at end, even though he was injured early in the season. Stand outs on the line for Van Nuys were Dave Gersten, Rich Ernstein, Ken Hawk, and Bob Burdick.

BEE FOOTBALL

Finishing fourth this year in the league, the BEE Team exhibited fine spirit and drive. Under the watchful eyes of their coaches, Albert Gaber and Jack Vogt, the Wolfpups posted a 3-3 league record. After losing their first two games of the season, the BEE's came back strong to win their next three decisions, only to lose their last two games and the league championship. This year the Bee's offensive attack was spearheaded by Cliff Reynolds, Jim Lind, Jeff Polan, Richard Alba, and Jack Hanauer. The front line of the offensive team was led by Doug Holiday, John Pierce, Mike Sanlon, Kim LeMasters, and Bill Sykes. Leading the defensive squad were Alba, John Feliz, and Robert Rebbe.

VARSITY BASKETBALL

With great anticipation, the Van Nuys Varsity Basketball team started the year with hopes for a highly successful season. With their great depth and four returning starters, the Wolves presented a real league threat. When the season started, however, some bad breaks sent the Varsity five into a slump, from which they could never recover. Even though the Wolves had a rather undistinguished record this year, winning only four games out of twelve, the Varsity team learned a lot about teamwork and sportsmanship.

The starting five for this year was made up of Greg Boucher, guard; Gary Sanserino, guard; Chip Ehlert, center; Scott Purdy, forward. Adding great depth to the team were Steve Freedman, Mike Kevorken, Ned Cracolici, Dave Hudson, and Mark Goldstein. Under the watchful eye of Coach Waymon Shofstall, these fine young hoopsters continued to improve their game and spirit as the season wore on.

JUNIOR VARSITY BASKETBALL

Van Nuys High's Junior Varsity Basketball team showed fine spirit and sportsmanship this season. With their never-say-die attitude, the Jayvees played many exciting games. Under the direction of Coach Waymon Shofstall, the team exhibited a great deal of improvement as the season progressed. Leading the Junior Varsity hoopsters this season were Pete Johansen, John Elliot, Bert Liebross, Loren Ross, Warren Benjamin, and Rick Andrew. Lending fine depth were Ron Bien, Dave Lang, and Steve Courtemarsh.

BEE BASKETBALL

With few returning lettermen, Coach Frank Asman had the difficult task of creating a strong Bee team. This year's team, though not a winning one, showed fine spirit, and the experience the boys got may afford great opportunity for improvement in the coming season.

Leading the team this past season were Kerry Bodtke, most valuable player, and John Ford, most improved player. Lending depth to the team were Ken Rich, Neal Brecht, and Bruce Sarkin.

Experience In Rugged Season

CEE BASKETBALL

Under the direction of Coach Frank Asman, this year's CEE Basketball team showed how good sportsmanship and spirit make for a fine team. Although this was not the most successful season in CEE history, it proved to be one which gave them much experience for their coming years as Van Nuys hoopsters. Leading the team this year were Bob Levine, most valuable; Joel Hodes, most improved; and Gary Clayton, the captain of the squad.

CROSS COUNTRY

Under the coaching of Jim McConnaughy, this year's Cross Country teams fielded some strong runners. The Van Nuys Cross Country teams trained hard in the dull, grueling labor of practicing for their league meets, which were held at Pierce Junior College. When the season was over, the Wolves Varsity harriers had taken third place in the East Valley League, behind Monroe and San Fernando. Leading the Varsity to its four and two record this year were Mario Espinosa, Jim Luthman, Bob Stelson, and Bruce Norby. This year's Junior Varsity team was led by the strong running of Ron Silverstein, Louis Rubio, and Steve Flanigan. Bill Klein and Kevin Coleman both started the year on the Junior Varsity team, but were moved up to the Varsity as the season moved on. The Tenth Grade team, though experiencing one of its worst seasons in some years, saw some fine running by Jeff Bissel.

VARSITY TRACK

Coaches Len Orteg and Frank Asman guided the Varsity Track team to another successful season this year. The captain, John Vidulich, led the team at most of the meets in total points scored. Grant Webster paced the team in the 220 and 440 yard sprints; Cliff Reynolds and Kerry Zirin ran the 100 yard dash. Mario Espinosa, Jim Luthman, and Steve Flanigan showed their endurance in the grueling two-mile run. Early in the season Espinosa set a new school record for this event. The Wolves demonstrated remarkable proficiency in field events as well as in track events. Frank Pettinger competed for the varsity in the shot-put; Mike Kevorken and Pat Plugge cleared the high jump bar; and John Vidulich toiled in the long jump.

TENNIS

During the opening match of the tennis season, the Wolves' Varsity defeated Granada Hills, the three-year West Valley League champion, by a score of 4-3. Though it was a non-league match, Coach Trovie Lyons was justifiably proud of his men, and he hopefully viewed the conquest as a preview of things to come in league play.

Ably leading the singles' play was Paul Appleby, backed up by Roger Barngrover, John Elliott, John Fisher, and Steve Robins. Gary Toub and Dave Borelli teamed up on doubles.

GOLF

Aiming for their sixth consecutive East Valley League championship, the golf team, coached by Mr. Don Ferrier, had a very successful year. Van Nuys' hopes rested heavily on returning veteran, Chris Clark, who was the Valley's top golfer during the 1965 season. Backing up Clark were B. Hall and Scott Munson. Also considered outstanding prospects by Coach Ferrier were Mike Dunn, Steve Edison, and Bill Ross.

Spirit And Determination

VARSITY BASEBALL

Varsity baseball was not as successful this season as hoped, although the team had great spirit and determination. Despite the sterling coaching efforts of Coach Jin McConnaughy, and though each position was held by a strong and capable player, the team as a whole lacked the ability to gain the coveted league championship.

The Wolf infield was especially sharp, consistently playing heads-up baseball. The infielders were Jim Langford, Phil Bonesteel, Greg Lucas, Rich Stevens, John Loomis, Steve Freeman, Jack Hanauer, Bob Sommers, and Doug Holiday.

Boasting some of the best hitters on the team, the outfield included Mark Holiday, Doug Anderson, Steve Livingston, John Wilkes, Chris Hunt, and Craig Quinley.

On the mound were Bob Palmersheim, Jason Saleeby, Pete Johansen, Jim Luthman, Ted Henry, and George Voita.

JUNIOR VARSITY BASEBALL

Greg Murphy and Chuck Stevenson, pitching against Granada Hills in the season opener, got the Junior Varsity Baseball Team off to a tremendous start by hurling a no-hit victory. Murphy later was named "Athlete of the Week" for his no-hit performance against San Fernando.

However, the team suffered a three-game slump immediately thereafter and lost the chance to regain the league lead. Coach Winston Tucker felt that the team had the potential to take East Valley League honors, but the Wolf eleven never seemed able to recover entirely from the series of bad breaks which sent them into their early-season slump.

Rueben Abundez, Bob Watson, and Danny Cortinas makes a close play in squad practice.

VARSITY SWIMMING

Coach Mr. Al Gaber led the Varsity Swim Team to one of the finest swim seasons enjoyed by Van Nuys in several years. There were many returning swimmers, some of whom held league or school records. Leading the swim team were Bruce Bauman, Ken Fields, Steve Wintersteen, and Rick Lee.

BEE SWIMMING

Coached by Mr. Al Gaber, this year's BEE Swim Team placed well among East Valley League contenders. There are many fine swimmers on the team; and, through vigorous workouts and constant effort, they managed to beat some of the league's stiffest competition.

Stalwarts on the BEE team included Mike Tronick, Howard Weiss, Stuart Foreman, and Bruce Wolf. These and other BEE swimmers displayed the potential for an excellent varsity team next year.

CEE SWIMMING

Coach Al Gaber transformed a group of essentially inexperienced swimmers into one of the finest CEE swim teams in the Valley. The team's performance during the season proved that the many hours of diligent exercise and work-outs were well spent.

Because many members of this year's varsity team are graduating seniors, the proficiency of several members of this CEE team indicates that they will be welcome additions to the varsity in future years.

Outstanding among the CEE Swimmers were Bruce Kaplan, Scott Beardsley, and Gary Shultz.

GIRLS' ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

Purpose of the organization is to provide girls with an opportunity to engage in friendly, spirited competition in sports.

Under the direction of Kathy Gerry, president, and Mrs. Janis Bergstrom, sponsor, the Girls' Athletic Association enjoyed a highly successful year. The Father-Daughter Awards Buffet was held to present awards to the girls who have shown outstanding athletic ability and to reveal the winners of the election of officers. Other activities included a Playday at Palisades High School, a conference at Sylmar High School, and the regular sports: archery, bowling, badminton, basketball, softball, modern dance, and cheerleading.

With the theme, "Under the Bigtop," the highlight of the spring semester was the Parent-Daughter Dessert.

LETTERGIRLS

Lettergirls is an honorary organization for girls in the fields of athletics and service. The girls give service at the spring sports banquets and the spring track meets. Some requirements include membership in G.A.A., participation in six sports, two gym credits by working in gym office or being equipment girls, and writing a yell or song for G.A.A. rallies. The Lettergirls also participate in the Playdays held at different schools. The club meets every Tuesday at noon.

LETTERMEN

The Lettermen's Club of Van Nuys High was founded in 1922. It is an organization of those athletes who have fulfilled the requirements of high athletic standards. The Lettermen's Breakfast is a major activity of the club and is held twice a month. At this time, the Athlete of the Week trophy is presented. Guests are also invited to relay some of their vast athletic experiences which always are of great interest. The sponsors of the Lettermen's Club are Mr. Albert Gaber and Mr. Leonard Orteg.
